Dear Brothers and Sister in Christ Jesus,

Greetings in the name of the Lord Jesus,

A one room school is a good analogy of a church. foigS mee years of grade school I had the privilege of attending one. Each grade was a row of seats. While the teacher taught one grade the rest of us could look and listen. I did not realize it at the time but it was a learning experience.

So it is in a church. We are each in a stage of spiritual progress. We are all going to school with Jesus the teacher through the Holy Spirit. Our spiritual lessons will prepare us to rule in the Kingdom of the Lord to come. We are all going to get a "report card".

Incidentally it was at that one room school that I first heard the Bible read. Each morning was opened by bible reading and prayer. That is illegal now!

I am to get this back brace taken off permanently next week. I have now worn it for six months. When first told to wear it that long I almost despaired . But now I am garateful to be rid of the thing.

All in all the back surgery has been a success. Although I have to walk with a cane..

I spoke recently of the Passover. We have tile blood on the door post of our hearts, home and church. I am so thankful that we can come boldly to the throne of grace in prayer.

Old men dream dreams. We can because of the memories of past deliverances . As someone has said, "He has not brought us this tar only to put us to shame.

We cab raise our Ebenezer for hitherto the Lord has brought us. The Lords goodness and grace is His glory,

Recently I was talking to a brother who lamented of how so few are being saved. Especially in these evil days. I mentioned several things we can do. We can ask the Lord for opportunities to witness. We can pray for a particular person to be saved. We can pray for the Lord to call more men to preach the gospel. We can pray for our missionaries. We can love one another more that the world may know. We can allow the Lord to burden our hearts in those matters. And remember two things. One, nothing is too hard for God, And two. We worship the living God who can change a curse to a
