

Received from Carla Fink
April 7, 2007

Good evening.

We had been planning to write a note to tell you what a wonderful 50th anniversary party we had yesterday (Friday). And it was a very nice party indeed. Just the family, but we had a lovely dinner, lots of flowers, and a few gifts including cards and letters from many of you. Thank you all for your love and caring and prayers.

Tonight we are asking for more prayers. Dad had been having pains in his back and neck the last few days, especially when he walked. The pains generally went away after he stopped exerting himself. But the pains were getting worse every day, so he went to the ER today as a precaution. They admitted him, as it appears there is more narrowing of the arteries in his heart. They will do a heart catheterization on Monday April 9 to determine what, if any, other treatment will be needed.

I had come in town for the anniversary, and had planned to leave on Wednesday. However, it looks like I may need to stay longer, so I can stay with Mother.

Dad asked that you don't worry; just pray.

Blessings to all of you.

Carla